Built before and during the second world war all over Switzerland, the antitank barriers do not impress anyone anymore, the opposite is actually happening: The barriers are wildly covered with ivy and moos and do offer a beautiful living place to many little animals. ### Nyon

The spick-and-span little town of Nyon is situated on Lake Geneva, half way between Geneva and Lausanne, amid the vineyards of La Côte. Many excavations and sights from the times of the Celtic Helvetians and the Romans, and from the Middle Ages, bear witness to its eventful history. In summer this is a paradise for lovers of the countryside and water sports.
